Mastering Products Liability Ronald W. Eades

Mastering Products Liability is a clear, concise discussion of the law of Products Liability. It contains a short history of the development of that area, but focuses on the current issues. Since products liability may be based on negligence, strict liability and warranty claims, those topics are covered in depth. In addition, traditional claims in misrepresentation are also covered in the text.

This work will not only be an invaluable resource for students taking a course in Products Liability, it will also provide valuable information for students covering the products liability material in the basic torts class.

This book is part of the Carolina Academic Press Mastering Series edited by Russell L. Weaver, University of Louisville School of Law.
