Each Day a New Beginning David Spohn

Written by a girl who had little self-worth and tried men, drugs, and alcohol to find security. After finding Al-anon, then later A. A. she found a new way of life. "The program has given me roots, and a sense of belonging to the human race", Hazelton wrote. The additional gift she received was a friendship with women. She wrote this book to help her sister travelers on the same journey with her.
