* This disc is for Computer Use Only ****

Ham Radio was a monthly amateur radio enthusiast magazine published in the United States from February 1968 to June 1990. The magazine was published in English and drew its subscription base primarily from the United States of America and Canada.

At the 1990 Dayton Hamvention, it was announced that Ham Radio had been sold to the publishers of CQ Amateur Radio. The June 1990 issue was the 268th and final issue published, where subscribers were told of the sale and that they would receive CQ in the future.

This came as a disappointment to the Ham Radio Magazine enthusiasts since the magazine was often hailed as the best "Technical" or "Technician's" magazine ever published.

Our collection of 197 complete issues cover the years of 1974 - 1990 (please contact us if you have copies of any magazines from 1968 - 1973) and your chance to own this landmark magazine collection for one low price.

If you are a collector missing back issues, an enthusiast just catching up or a new comer to the magazine and want to view this amazing collection now is your chance to own it for amazingly little. This is the largest collection available anywhere for only 7 1/2 cents each!
